

Josh Stanley

Creator of the Charlotte's Web strain of cannabis and a Co-founder of the Stanley Brothers Realm of Caring Foundation. (<http://theroc.us/>)

The Realm of Caring Foundation has earned the reputation as some of Colorado's finest cultivators and cannabis breeders. The brothers have specialized in breeding high CBD strains of cannabis, including Charlotte's Web. Josh owns the cultivation facilities which assist in further breeding projects. Josh has also been influential in helping the Colorado legislature in their efforts to regulate the new cannabis industry in Colorado. The Realm of Caring is a 501c3 non-profit organization that has formed to provide a better quality of life for residents of Colorado affected by Cancer, MS, HIV/AIDS, Epilepsy, Parkinson's, among many other debilitating conditions through the use of their concentrated medicinal cannabis oil. All the Stanley's were featured on National Geographic's American Weed television show in 2012.